

To calculate the area of rectangles and squares

Remember, all you have to do to calculate the area of a square or rectangle, is multiply the length by the width! Don't forget, the units must be squared.

