

This half term we welcomed a visitor from the NSPCC into school, who delivered an informative workshop about how to keep your children safe online. As part of the talk, she gave us brochures, which are available to pick up from the school office, and shared different links to videos to enable us to keep the children safe. Here are some of the videos shown:

If you are unsure of how to change settings on any of your devices you are able to visit any O2 shop and ask an O2 guru for help and advice.

In addition to this talk, there is another e-safety presentation planned to be delivered in the Spring term (after school) for anyone who did not make it and would still like to find out further information.
