Spelling lists - Autumn 2

Week	Week 1	Week 2	Week 3	Week 4	Week 5	Week 6	Week 7
Pattern	Silent g	Silent w	Soft c	Ending -le	Ending 'el' /	Ending 'il' / 'ol'	More common
					'al'		exception words (CEW)
Rule	Often followed by n which is often followed by vowel (not many of these).	Often followed by r which is always followed by a vowel.	When c is followed by e, i or y, the c is soft (sounds like s).	-Words with short vowel sound, always two consonants between vowel and 'le' or double consonant -Words with long vowel sound, only one consonant before 'le'	-'el' is less common than 'le' (it is often used after non- ascenders or descenders) -'al' is also less common than 'le'. Few nouns end in 'al', many adjectives do -Use 'al' for a suffix	Not many words end in -il or -ol. These are some of the most common.	-CEW are words which may be exceptions to spelling rules, or which use a particular combination of letters to represent sound patterns in a unique way.

Pattern	Apostrophes for contraction		Apostrophes for possession		'y' sounding long 'i'	'y' sounding long vowel 'e'	'ey' sounding
					(eye)	(ee)	long 'e' (ee)
Rule	-Apostrophes represent missing letters (not the joining of two words) and must be placed precisely (you a re = you ' re) -Contractions show how we speak ("I'm working hard.")		-Apostrophe can show possession/ ownership -It goes before the s when there's one person or thing -If you can say the same thing using 'belonging to' (the shoes belonging to dad) or 'of (the tail of the cat) it will need an apostrophe		-This is the most common way of making the 'eye' sound at the end of a word -For nouns and verbs, the 'y' changes to 'i' before adding -es	-With short vowel sounds the final consonant is often doubled before the - y -With long vowel sounds the single consonant before the -y does not need to be doubled -For nouns and verbs ending –y, the y changes to i before adding -es	-'ey' makes the 'ee' sound at the end of these nouns -Words ending in –ey, simply add s to for the plural
